

The Summer has flown by; people are returning from vacations, and the students will soon go back to school. Fall will be here before we know it and football season will quickly approach! Hopefully, the humidity will get better, and we can enjoy some cooler weather this month. Please remember to notify me at the office with any changes that are needed in the Directory or the continuous prayer list.

Also, note that we are making some changes and adjustments to the computer system which is still in progress and there are errors being made, but please trust that I will get everything running smoothly and accurately; it will just take some time and patience. You do not need to do anything differently on your end; more information will follow once this process has been completed. E-mail has been a major issue, but rest assured, I will get it working properly and efficiently. Stay tuned for more information, especially if your email is one of the ones having problems.

Pastor-Bob Kasting

FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK...

Well summer is here and we are halfway through the year, where has this year gone? The heat of the day, the rain in the afternoon. Vacations are underway, either coming back or getting ready to go.

As I was driving around the other day and listening to the radio, a woman asked the host of the program I was listening to, “how do I get my faith alive again?” From the tone of her voice and the halting pattern of her words, you could tell that this was no idle question. Her faith had been important to her and now, well it wasn't. I wanted to hear what the host was going to say to her. I listened to what the host said, which got me thinking, how many of us ask this same question as the woman has. Part of her concern was that she was alone in this. The host assured her that every Christian asks this question, sometimes with painful regularity. How could I have answered her?

I would have mentioned to her that I understand her question and the feelings behind it; I know what it's like. I also believe that there are many good answers to her question. One of my responses to her would be to pray. Pray when you don't feel like praying? Pray when you're not sure of your faith? Yes and Yes. I would suggest a prayer. It begins, “Our Father, who art in heaven...” The beginning is important; it says to me, even as I pray, that I am a child, that I am in a relationship with one who has given me life. The prayer, even as I give it words my first breath in prayer, reminds me that I am not alone. Even as I speak there is one who listens. Beginning the prayer with the words “our” also reminds me that there are others who pray with me, children of the same heavenly Father. In the very first words of the prayer my experience of life in this world is already beginning to change as I am surround in prayer, like the prayer shawls I have been given and also given to folks on special occasions or in challenging situations. The pray continues as it speaks to us of the relationship with a loving God.

We pray that God's will be done, trusting that this is what is good for us and all creation. We pray for guidance, knowing that God will lead us toward forgiveness, healing, and life. We pray to one whose kingdom, power and glory are eternal as is his love for us.

This answer is only the beginning and the beginning sometimes lasts a long time. When I have completed the prayer, I find it helpful to open my Bible as a means of continuing the conversation begun in prayer. I open to the Book of Psalms where I find it to be life-giving for me, and that of our loving Father is happy to hear my voice.

So, getting back to the very first word of the Lord's Prayer, being together with my sisters and brothers in worship, fellowship, and study, I feel the hand of God. Like a prayer shawl over my shoulders, joining others in prayer, worship, and just plain conversation over something to drink brings a sense of family, faith, and joy of being together in relationship with God and with one another. It isn't good for us to be alone (that's in the Bible Gen, 2:18) and gathering together as a family of faith creates an opportunity for the Holy Spirit to bring life to our souls. The living part of that life isn't always easy, but being together, living together, working together, and worshipping together goes a long way toward healing our souls and bringing faith to life. Thank you for being the people of Lord of Life who teach me this lesson daily and whose presence makes it possible for me to pray ... Our Father.. God bless you!

Your Brother in Christ

FROM THE MUSIC DIRECTOR'S DESK...

1 Peter 1:8 reads; "Although you have not seen him, you love him; and even though you do not see him now, you believe in him and rejoice with an indescribable and glorious joy". God's people do not have to choose joy, they are able to live into that joy because of God's awesome character of steadfast love and mercy.

Remember, God never promised us a trouble-free life....in fact, he actually promised us the opposite in John 16:33 which reads; "I have told you these things so that in me you may have peace. In this world you WILL have trouble; but take heart.....I have overcome the world." What a profound reminder that He has promised us joy even in the midst of difficult times and that the peace that passes all human understanding is found in Him alone.

Joy is not just a fleeting feeling based on the circumstances of our lives at any given moment. God's joy is a perpetual gladness of the heart that comes only from knowing and dwelling in him. When we know him, how can we not respond with thankfulness and joy?

2nd Quarter Endowment News

We are proud to honor two non-profits for the second quarter: No Kill Glynn County received $1000 and Memory Matters received $750. No Kill Glynn County is dedicated to saving the lives of homeless animals in Glynn Co by providing TNVR (trap, neuter, vaccinate, release) in order to control the growing population of strays; by providing emergency vet care for community animals; by providing dog and cat food to low income residents; by providing low and no-cost neuter for low income people; and assisting people in need of help to keep their pets in their homes. NKGCC depends entirely on donations. 100% of funds go directly to the care of animals and people who need help caring for their pets. This organization is comprised of all volunteers; no person is paid for their dedication and hard work.

Memory Matters' vital mission is to support, educate, and enrich the lives of individuals dealing with memory issues and the caregivers who walk alongside them. Every contribution helps make a meaningful difference in the lives of those affected by memory loss, and our congregation is blessed to partner in this impactful work.

Renee Balka presented the check to Shelly Bydlinski, founder of NKGCC. The donation will be used to offer spay/neuter for pets of low-income families

Susanne Paskins and Pastor Bob had the honor of presenting a check to John Hartland, President of the Board of Directors for Memory Matters Glynn County

Property Committee Update...

First of all, I would like to thank Rick Apfel for his dedicated and professional approach to maintaining the church property for the past four years. I have big shoes to fill. Thanks Rick!

All of you will agree that maintaining the church buildings and surrounding properties is a given. The less obvious understanding is how much time and investment it takes to make sure our assets are properly kept for the long run. There are several projects that will need our attention.

I will introduce a few of those projects at a time, so as not to inundate you with too many challenges. As we complete a project, another will be added.

The church has a bare bones budget, meaning we budget primarily to cover fixed expenses; such as, payroll, insurance and power. Therefore, we will have to raise additional funds to cover repair and capital projects. A recent example is the new garden near the fountain. It took only two weeks to raise the money and another couple of weeks to finish the project. So, with that, I would like to present you with our next set of challenges:

1. Replace the front sign and tower electrical. This project has been completed and funded with monies from the Yard Sale. $900 was designated for building repair. This project cost $642.
2. Trim the palm trees ($160). This project will be contracted and proceeds coming from the Yard Sale.
3. Repair and paint the front sign. The repairs are complete and the Yard Sale funds will cover the cost of the paint (~$70). Anyone want to volunteer to be the painter?
3. Paint the Sacristy door (red). Donations are needed to cover cost of paint (~$40).

Anyone want to be the painter?

4. Replace the Sacristy door awning. Requesting bids. I will let you know.

That's it for now. Thank you for your support. If you have any questions or have other projects that you feel should be added to the list, please let me know.

Blessings,

Dave Erickson
