THE BIBLE IS THE CRADLE WHEREIN CHRIST IS LAID.
~ MARTIN LUTHER

From the Music Director

Ephesians 4:2 says...."Be completely humble and gentle; bearing with one another in love". This verse is a wonderful and profound expression of who we are as a community. We all know one another. We all have learned, through ever growing and changings relationships, one another's strengths and weaknesses and one another's needs. We also know one another's spiritual gifts that are brought each Sunday to Lord of Life; we know them because we have entered into faithful relationship with one another to discover them. It is those faithful relationships that we have created and continued to nurture that bind us together so tightly. It is those relationships that we continue to nurture that allow us to 'bear WITH' one another in times of indifference. It is those faithful relationships into which we continue to enter with great humility that allow all of us to see one another as Jesus would see us... sin and all. It is in this place of humility and vulnerability where he meets us with grace that he alone gives to us freely so that even in the midst of trial, the love that we hold in our hearts with one another never ceases.

Relationships are not easy. Relationships require us to think of one another and not ourselves; so contrary to what we are bombarded with every day and all around us. We are called, not always to like one another, but most certainly to love one another as Christ has loved us. Folks, relationships take work. Relationships will not grow if they are not nurtured and tended to. Relationships will quickly severe if they do not have a humble and vulnerable foundation on which to grow.

Martin Luther said:
God created the world out of nothing;
So as long as we are nothing,
God can make something out of us.

From the President

It is that time of year when your church council has some council terms expiring. This means there is an opportunity for you to join the council and share your thoughts and wisdom on how your church moves forward. We meet on the third Sunday of the month after the service. The term is for two years.

It is hard to believe it has already been a year since you voted me in as your council president. Seeing and hearing everyone's thoughts and ideas and being able to bring them to the other members to improve our church. Being on the council has been very rewarding to me.

Please prayerfully consider joining us on the council. Please let me or another council member know if you are interested.

Lord of Life Endowment Fund Outreach

Heather Pruner (daughter of Stephanie and Kevin Manson) presented a check to Amy Cantrell, director of Beloved Asheville. The check of $500 was a result of an endowment fund request by Stephanie and Kevin and their daughter and will be used to provide aide to those in the Asheville area affected by Hurricane Helene.

If you are involved with a nonprofit organization that provides assistance to those in the community (and not only our small community), remember to complete an application to request endowment funds.

The Importance of Prayer

Let Us Pray

"The praying which makes a prayerful ministry is not a little praying put in as we put flavor to give it a pleasant smack, but the praying must be in the body, and form the blood and bones. Prayer is no petty duty, put into a corner; no piecemeal performance made out of the fragments of time which have been snatched from business and other engagements of life; but it means that the best of our time, the heart of our time and strength must be given." — E.M. Bounds, Power Through Prayer

Set aside one hour each week and pray through the church directory for our members, families and friends.

FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

As I sit here thinking about what to write, I read a poem about Father's Day. Here is the poem, and the author is unknown:

A father and a dad are not the same; One can be a dad and not a father, Or one can be a father and not bother to earn through love the more endearing name.

Some find fatherhood a bit too tame, Leaving all the details to the mother, Or dumping the sweet burden on another Man with just a passing twinge of shame.

You have been our dad so many years That you've become the landscape that is home, The mountain that we look to from afar. No matter where we go, we're not alone, For you remain within to still our fears And be the word that tells us who we are.

As I read this poem, the first thing that came to me was my dad. My dad has not always been there when I was living in Harrisburg, Pa my dad would leave on a Monday travel to NYC for the week and then back. He did this till we moved on to Long Island. I thought all dads did this. When we lived on Long Island, he worked in the city, which made it hard to come to my track meets or x-country meets. But one of the many things my father did was he took a week's vacation; taught me to play golf in the back yard and that whole week we went golfing. One thing I know for sure, was he was proud of me and my sisters, loved me no matter what I did. My dad would always give us his blessing, prayed for us and love to all of us.

That is the same with our Heavenly Father. No matter what we do, no matter what we become He is always with us praying for us and bestowing His blessings on us.

So, as I end this, another poem for my dad and all dads:

We celebrate Fathers Day

Sunday, June 15th

A POEM FOR ALL DADS

Happy Father's Day to my dear Dad!
As you have loved me, so have I loved you.
Please to tell you, now that words are due,
Please to have this chance to make you glad.
Your years of love and sacrifice have had
For me the force that you would wish them to,
A wind that takes me home to harbors new,
The inner voice in clothes familiar clad.
How might I be myself, except I see
Each gesture in the mirror of your grace,
Remembered as it was when long ago,
'Ere I knew why, I looked to you for love>
So am I of you inextricably,
Defined by trends not difficult to trace
As I grow into someone that I know,
Yet myself in ways that will prove.
(Author unknown)

God's peace, and Happy Father's Day.

Pastor Bob
